Update: what the team downloaded (September 28, 2026)

A team member downloaded 22 files. They are now in `RiverLine-Team22/docs_downloaded/`, sorted into subfolders by section of the table below and renamed by ID. Three duplicate copies were discarded. The main results, now in the background report and in `data_public/`:

- D02 (failures). NJ TRANSIT's monthly River LINE miles between failures, January 2017 to August 2026. The series fell to 2,377 miles (September 2025) and recovered to about 3,700 by mid-2026. Saved in `data_public/njt_performance/`.
- D06 (satisfaction surveys). River LINE overall satisfaction by wave: 6.6 (Spring 2022), falling to 5.9 (Spring 2025), then 6.8 (Fall 2025). It was the lowest light rail line in every wave until Fall 2025. Top-ten attribute scores were also extracted. Saved in `data_public/njt_survey/`.
- D05 and D04 (NTD cost history). River LINE operating cost, fares, and service for 2015–2024, and the 2019 agency profile.
- D09 and D10 (board agendas).
  - Confirmed "River LINE insourcing: 94 FTE, $3.9m."
  - Found board item 2511-51 (November 12, 2025). It records a termination for convenience "due to performance concerns," the February 14, 2026 transfer date, and the new subsidiary NJ TRANSIT Southern Light Rail, Inc.
- D19 (NJDOT safety oversight appendix). Burlington City Yard holds 2 cars and the Trenton layover holds 8. The line has 72 grade crossings and 23 bridges, and trains are limited to 2 cars. It gives no siding mileposts.
- D17 (FRA docket). The file is a 2007 e-mail setting a 25 mph limit at the Farnsworth Avenue crossing, not the Temporal Separation Plan, which is still needed.

Still most useful to get:

- River LINE-only on-time data; the public file is all light rail.
- The 2003 Temporal Separation Plan.
- Board agendas from September 2025 to February 2026, to find the Kinkisharyo contract.
- The official track chart with siding limits (Data Request).
- Post-takeover boardings by station.

Why these were missing. Our research tools could not open these files. Most are PDFs on `content.njtransit.com`, which blocks automated access in its robots file. Others are JavaScript dashboards, paywalled articles, or PDFs whose text did not extract. A team member can download almost all of them in an ordinary web browser.

- Save each file to `RiverLine-Team22/docs_downloaded/`, using the ID in the first column as the file-name prefix (e.g. `D01_Fall2024_survey.pdf`).
- Items marked OPRA are not public. Request them from NJ TRANSIT under New Jersey's Open Public Records Act, through NJ TRANSIT's records-request page on njtransit.com (search "OPRA") or the client contact. Several overlap with our Data Request.

Priority.

- High: feeds our models or the client report directly.
- Med: useful context.
- Low: nice to have.
